Eligibility to Vote

You may vote for the 2021 Hugo Awards, the Astounding Award for Best New Writer, and the Lodestar Award for Best YA Book if you are an attending, virtual, or supporting member of DisCon III.

Please remember to complete the eligibility section and sign your ballot at the bottom of this section.

How to vote:

- This ballot uses a modified version of the single transferable vote for a single winner, sometimes known as an instant run-off ballot.

- To vote, mark your choices in each category in order of preference: "1" for first place, "2" for second place, and so on.

- A lower preference is considered only if all the candidates ranked higher have been eliminated.

- You are not required to rank all the finalists in any category.

- If you leave any preference blank, preferences below that will not be counted, i.e. if you rank two items in a category, but then do not rank an item "3", all preferences 3 and below will not be counted.

- If you leave your first preference blank, your vote will not be counted at all, i.e. if you do not rank something "1" in a category, your vote will not be counted in that category.

- If you decide not to vote in any given category, leave it blank.

- Note that "No Award" is not an abstention. It means that none of the finalists should be given the award in question.

- If you give preference votes to finalists below your ranking of No Award, your vote will count for those finalists if all higher-ranked preferences, including No Award, are eliminated.

- When the ballots are counted, all the first place votes will be tabulated.
• If no finalist receives more than half of the votes, the finalist with the fewest first place votes is eliminated, and their votes are transferred to the finalists with the next preferences on those ballots.

• This process of elimination of the last-placed finalist and redistribution of their votes to the next available preference continues until one finalist has more than half of all remaining votes, at which point that finalist becomes the winner (except under specific conditions described in Sections 3.6 and 3.12 of the WSFS Constitution).
